PERIOD OF PROSPERITY SHOWN IN ALL CIRCLES

REPORTS TO STATE DEPARTMENT SHOW RETURN TO NORMAL

Demand for Steel, Fuel
Production, Restoring
of High Wages, Tend
To Solidify Business.

ALL IS OPTIMISM

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—A period of industrial activity second only to the wave of production during the war was predicted for Pennsylvania, keystone industrial State of the Union, in a survey laid before the Department of Labor here today. The recent wage increases announced by the steel corporations of the country was only one indication out of many that production is ready to boom. Reports to the Department from investigators, inspectors and mediators in all parts of the State demonstrated, as one official stated, that industry has found its footing. These reports as they accumulated indicated that Pennsylvania industry was climbing satisfactorily towards greater production, even under the handicap of coal shortage and transportation difficulties. The following outstanding basic features were reported:

First.—Transportation nearly normal, with freight shipments, except coal, proceeding without interruption. Second.—Building construction proceeding with one of the most active building periods on record.

Third.—Steel mills reporting sufficient fuel, increasing wages and preparing to fill large orders. Fourth.—Textile mills expanding, increasing wages to employees and operating on full time basis.

Fifth.—Almost all lines of manufacturing in the State on a near normal basis.

The State Employment Agency reported a demand for labor. A committee on labor shortage has been in existence throughout the depression in spite of the strike of miners and other workers. Wages for common labor have been run up from 25 to 45 and 50 cents per hour.

DE VALERA COMES OUT OF HIDING TO ORGANIZE ARMY

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 25.—Eamon De Valera today dramatically emerged from his hiding place and is said to be organizing an army in County Louth and is planning an attack on Dublin. The rumor ran rapidly thru the crowds mourning at the bier of Michael Collins, whose body lies in state at City Hall. Officers of the Free State government were understood to be communicating with towns in County Louth to ascertain the authenticity of the reports. If De Valera has reappeared, he has seized this opportunity when he believes the Free State demoralized by Collins' assassination to make another effort to overthrow the government and establish a republic.

WELL-KNOWN B. & P. ENGINEER HURT

Thomas A. Keenan, one of the best known engineers on the B. & P. road, and a citizen of DuBois for many years, was perhaps fatally injured Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock when he fell from his engine.

Some repairs had been made to the air pumps on the engine and Mr. Keenan climbed up to look it over and in tightening a bolt the wrench he was using slipped and becoming overbalanced he pitched headfirst to the ground. Mr. Keenan is a large man, weighing around 250, and his skull was crushed in the fall, causing a compound fracture.

He was removed to the DuBois hospital, where he has since remained in a precarious condition.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very delightful party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Renaud on Monday evening, Aug. 21st in honor of their daughter Madolin's birthday. She was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. The evening was charmingly spent in playing games and music.

Refreshments were served to twenty-one guests and when the party came to a close everyone departed wishing her many more joyous birthdays to come. The birthday cake was artistically decorated and held twenty-three tell tale candles. Skiddo One Who Was There

BROTHERHOODS ARE UNABLE TO EFFECT PEACE ON RAILWAYS

Meeting Breaks up After
Lengthy Session With
Railroad Executives
In New York City.

ALL DEALS ARE OFF

New York, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Prospects of rail peace were shattered here this afternoon when the conference between the Big Four brotherhoods and executives of twenty carriers, became deadlocked and broke up in disagreement. Two days' efforts of roads hit hardest by the strike to bring about separate peace failed.

The question of seniority rights again proved the stumbling block. The executives flatly refused to consider the demands of the brotherhood chiefs who acted as mediators for the striking shopmen that the men return to work with full seniority rights.

"The committee of mediators worked earnestly and helpfully with the conference in an effort to bring about a settlement," said David Willard, president of the B. & O., who acted as spokesman for the executives. "The railway executives who took part in the conference sincerely regret that the representatives of the striking employees were unwilling to agree to a settlement except under conditions which the railway executives were unwilling and unable to accept. It was difficult to imagine any fairer basis of compromise than the one developed in yesterday's conference and agreed to by the carrier representatives. It must be assumed, therefore, that the present controversy cannot be settled by that method."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—Information from government sources that the railroads of the country are now moving less than 60 per cent. of the normal fuel traffic of the country were placed before President Harding's cabinet today during a meeting devoted entirely to the rail strike. It was officially stated, despite claims

CLEVELAND SEES A FIERCE TONG WAR BETWEEN CHINAMEN

Cleveland, O., Aug. 25.—Tong war between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs, dormant for several months, broke out in Chinatown here early today. Armed Chinese in motor cars sped back and forth through the district firing fusillades of shots at the homes and business establishments of rival tong members. Many narrowly escaped injury. A series of riot calls sent scores of police to Chinatown but the rioters had disappeared. No casualties were reported.

ROTARIANS HEAR INTERESTING DATA ON SEWER PIPE

The regular meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club, held at the Hotel Jordan last evening, was attended by about forty members of the organization and several invited guests. President Albert Bigler presided over the deliberations until every fellow had been fed and then placed the reins of authority in the hands of F. Gurney Smith, who very capably directed the flow of "after dinner oratory," etc., along the right lines.

The club members were disappointed when they learned the speaker of the evening, Editor John F. Short, who was scheduled to talk on "Taxation," was indisposed and unable to be present. His place was taken by Sam L. Warner, who talked "Sewer Pipe." Sam went back into antiquity to the times even beyond where the cliff dwellers of the stone age cut water courses down the faces of the cliffs wherein they had their habitations and closed with a burst of oratory in which he recommended the Clearfield Sewer Pipe Company's second grade 2-inch for equipping moonshine stills hereabouts in our mountains. As usual with Sam, he gave an interesting talk, which was highly appreciated by his hearers.

President Bigler announced that Mr. Short would be the speaker at next week's meeting, while Alex Dunbar, Pittsburg banker, would talk at the meeting on September 7. The local Rotarians will entertain the DuBois and Philipsburg clubs at the Clearfield-Curwensville Country Club on September 14th.

President Thomas of Pennsylvania State College will be the guest of the Rotary Club on the evening of September 21st and it is likely the Commercial Club will also meet in joint session with Rotary to hear the distinguished visitor.

Band Concert Announced For Next Sunday

The Clearfield American Legion Band will give another of those delightful concerts in the park on Sunday afternoon starting at three o'clock. The program selected by Prof. Thayer has been chosen so that it covers the classical and that of lighter vein.

Mr. H. J. Brown, one of the city's leading tenors will be the soloist for the afternoon and will sing to the accompaniment of the band.

This will possibly be the last of the summer concerts as from now on the band is bending every effort toward perfection for the coming trip with the John Lewis Shade Post to the State American Legion convention at Williamsport next month where they will compete with a great number of bands for first prize which is the honor of accompanying the state delegation of the American Legion to the national convention at New Orleans, October next.

Mrs. Mary Shaffner, of Nichols street left on the 1:05 to attend a funeral of her aunt at Bellefonte.

HARBISON-WALKER ANNOUNCES WAGE INCREASE OF THIRTY PER CENT

Coincident with the announcement of the Steel Trust boost of wages for laborers 20 per cent and the settling of the coal strike, comes the announcement of the Harbison-Walker Company, which operates many brick yards in Clearfield county and this section of the state, that, beginning September 1st, the wages of their employees would be increased a matter of 30 per cent.

The Osceola Fire Brick Company has made a similar announcement and it is likely all the brickyards in this section will fall in line with the increase.

After September 1st common laborers at the brickyards will receive $3.50 per day.

SENATE COMMITTEE CLAIM CLEVELAND ON GASOLINE SCORES STANDARD OIL CO.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—"Railroad gasoline prices have climbed steadily during the last two years, while crude oil costs, subject to violent fluctuations, have decreased. The valuation of stocks of gas and oil have increased during the same period but have tended to concentrate in the hands of a few Standard Oil groups. Independent oil producers of the country face disaster because of the manipulation of Standard Oil prices which have increased materially."

These were some of the findings of the special Senate investigating committee investigating the oil industry and presented by Chairman McNary, of Oregon, today.

1922 SESSION JUNIOR O. U. A. M. SEPT. 11 AT JOHNSTOWN, PA.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 25.—Preparations are practically complete for the session of the State Council of Pennsylvania, Jr. O. U. A. M., which will be held in Johnstown the week of September 11, 1922. The local committees have gone over the details for the meeting and announce that everything is in readiness.

While the sessions proper will not begin until Tuesday, September 12, many of the 400 or more delegates expected at the convention will arrive in Johnstown on Monday, September 11 and it has been arranged to have the degree team of Daniel Webster Council No. 700, put on the initiatory work in the way of an entertainment feature for the early arrivals among the visiting delegates. The balance of the time during convention week, while the delegates are not in the convention hall, has been provided for and the local Entertainment Committee has laid elaborate plans to see that the visitors have a thoroughly good time and return home with a lasting impression of "The Friendly City."

The ladies who accompany the delegates to Johnstown have not been forgotten in the entertainment plans, and the local committees have arranged numerous affairs for the women folks.

Automobile tours to points of interest about the Flood City, theatre parties and other entertainment has been provided for both the delegates and their ladies, but the principal social feature will be a reception and dance to be held in Moose Temple on Wednesday evening, September 13. A good orchestra has been secured for the occasion and a pleasant evening for the visitors seems assured. The regular session of the State body will also be held in Moose Temple, which is but a short distance from the business district of Johnstown and also within easy reach of the hotels where the visitors will be quartered.

All in all, the convention promises to be one of the best in the history of the State Council of Pennsylvania, and the local committees and having nothing undone to uphold the reputation of Johnstown—"The Friendly City"—as an entertaining center.

CLAIM CLEVELAND PACT A VIOLATION OF SHERMAN LAW

Pittsburg, Aug. 25.—Legal actions against operators who participated in the Cleveland peace conference have been instituted by operators in Pittsburg and West Virginia, it was learned here today. Plans for action in an attempt to show the Cleveland agreement is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law were made in a conference here between legal representatives of the Kanawha Valley Association and the Pittsburg Coal Producers Association. The first steps for combined legal action against the operators who signed the Cleveland agreement probably will be taken in Washington.

PROMINENT PITTSBURG COAL OPERATOR DIES

Reed in June, 1888, who survives him. He is also survived by two sons, James, of Pittsburg, and Lane, of Washington, Pa., and three grandchildren.

CHINESE YOUTH OF ALTOONA WALKS TO PITTSBURGH TO CLAIM HIS BRIDE ONLY TO FIND SHE HAD MOVED AWAY

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—Supposed authorities have united in declaring the Chinese an unemotional and unromantic race. If this be true, 14-year-old Yee Man Joe, formerly of Altoona, but now of Altoona, has made rapid strides toward Americanism. For Yee Man is now back in Altoona after a fruitless pilgrimage by foot to Pittsburgh in search of his youthful sweetheart, Ming Wong, once of Second avenue. But she has moved away.

At least that was the reason given by Lee Man in the office of Detective Captain Left yesterday afternoon for his unannounced departure 10 days ago from the laundry-home of his father, Yen Joe, in Altoona. Yee Man had been picked up by Detective David Corbett and William Sullivan, at 1248 Penn avenue a few minutes before as a result of an appeal from his father to Pittsburgh police.

Yee Man's vocabulary proved rather limited when questioned by detectives but he did admit that a desire to see

Ming Wong, whom he had known while attending the Chinese school on Second avenue, had been the motive that caused him to spend three days walking from Altoona to Pittsburgh.

On his arrival here a week ago he found that the rump of the Boulevard of the Allies in Second avenue had disrupted the Chinese colony that he had known so well until his removal to Altoona two years ago. The house where Ming Wong had lived had lost its front half and was vacant and she was not to be found.

Yee Man eventually drifted to the new Chinese colony in Penn avenue, and there he found friends, who kept him until he was found by the detectives. His search for Ming Wong proving a failure, he offered no objection to returning to Altoona.

"In China no drive 'em from home—'Merica no keep 'em home," the Altoona policeman who came to take Yee Man back home, quoted the father as having remarked on his son's departure.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Prothontary George W. Ralston is going to be able to pick his own company and promises to be the most popular man in town by the time the fall hunting season arrives. He has already had more than a score of invitations from local Nimrods, who want to go with him and will no doubt receive many more before the season opens. The reason for the genial county official's increased popularity is the result of his showing the following letter, which he received yesterday:

"August 21, 1922. Dear Friend:—I have seen two bucks and five does a good many times right close to our house, while four bears are in our corn field several nights a week. Now, George, if you want these animals to stay here unmolested till hunting season you can send me some trespass notices and I will post them up and keep people coming in and chasing them away before the hunting season comes in. Send them right away or they will be in and chase them away or kill them as they did before I am waiting for your reply. Yours very truly,

Needless to add, Ralston sent the trespass notices out on the very next mail and is beginning already to organize his hunting party.

A. B. Reed handed us the following report of a baseball game played on the ball field at the old tan grounds on the Reed farm on South Second street on September 15, 1869, between the Chumelachunose club of Clearfield and the Rough and Ready club of Penfield, which resulted in a victory for the "Chinks" by a score of 98 to 39.

The players were: Chinks—George Moore, c; A. W. Walters, p; O. L. Hoover, ss; J. P. Johnson, 1b; John Irvin, 2b; H. F. Bigler, 3b; J. K. Johnson, 1b; N. L. Robins, cf; E. Chorpennig, rf.

R. and R.—W. A. Lamb, c; A. Rosenkrantz, p; John Radebach, ss; Mose Lucore, 1b; D. Hanning, 2b; F. C. Bowman, 3b; A. Bliss, lf; G. Woodward, cf; John Lucore, rf.

The summary of the game is interesting in these days of scientific playing. The "fly catches" are given, Clearfield, 7; R. and R., 10. The home runs were, Clearfield, 7; R. and R., 2.

The late A. M. Hills was umpire, and E. A. Bigler and Harry Brown scorers. Time of game, 3 hours.

It is interesting to note that two of the "Chinks" are yet in the land of the living after all these fifty-three years, in the persons of Squire F. G. Chorpennig, of Clearfield, and George C. Moore, of California.

A California woman named Kendrick, being pinched for ready money, sold or rented her handsome husband to the rich Mrs. Edith Huntington Sprickles Wakefield, of the wealthy Sprickles family for a measly little old $100 per month for life. After collecting a few monthly instalments, Mrs. Kendrick found the widow was taking up entirely too much of her husband's time and attention and tiring her bargain, had the rich woman hauled into court and ordered to let her hubby alone. This is a great world and people are so peculiar. We know several women right here in Clearfield who would gladly give a quit claim deed to their husbands and instead of demanding $100 per month would even pay the costs of preparing and recording the deed.

Gold held by the central banks of all principal world powers now amounts to $7,851,000,000—a new record. This sum is an increase of $1,238,000,000 in two years. The increase is due to the fact that governments by restrictive gold policies have brought gold out of hiding. Then there has been a steady flow of new gold from the mines.

Of the world's total, the United States has 40 per cent, or $3,170,000,000. Most of this gold is in the possession of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks of the Federal Reserve system, or in the vaults of the United States Treasury and its branch depositories. The grand total of all available gold does not include gold in Russia.

Since November, 1918, there has been shipped into the United States $1,290,000,000 in gold. This came chiefly from England, France, Canada and Sweden. The total gold exported in that period was $724,000,000, sent mainly to Japan, Argentina, China, Hongkong and British India.

Indoor Occupation. "You must take an interest in indoor sports," said the physician. "do," replied the indolent citizen. "They provide my main reading every day."

Fond Memory. Open season for recalling how good stolen turnip used to taste to you when you were a small boy.—Connersville Examiner.

Optimistic Thought. A grateful mind is not only the greatest of virtues but the parent of all other virtues.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

In the summer of 1914, MARK SABRE finds that he is estranged from human sympathy and understanding with the sole exception of LADY NONA TYBAR, an old sweet-heart, now happily married. Sabre's promise and snobbish wife, MABEL, fails to understand her husband's poetic and whimsical temperament. In business he is in the firm of Fortune, East and Sabre and a promised partnership is diverted from him.

At this point, Nona's life with Tybar is intolerable and she asks Sabre to take her away. War is declared and Sabre rushes to inform his wife.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

She echoed the word, "War?" "Yes, declared war."

He was breathless, panting. She said, "Good gracious! Whatever will happen? Have you brought an evening paper? Do you know the paper didn't come this morning till—?" "I could not hear her out. 'No, I didn't wait. I simply rushed away.' He was close to her. He took her hands. 'I say, Mabel, it's war.' His emotions were tumultuous and extraordinary. He wanted to draw her to him and kiss her. They had not kissed for longer than he could have remembered; but now he held her hands hard and desired to kiss her. 'I say, it's war.'"

She gave her sudden burst of laughter. "You are excited, I've never seen you so excited. Your color's undone." He dropped her hands. He said rather stupidly, "Well, it's war, you know," and stood there. She turned to her dressing table. "Well, I do wish you'd stayed for a paper."

Lying awake, he thought of Nona. He had not written the letter to her. The appointed day was past and he had not written. He would have said, during that unutterable darkness in which he had awaited it, that not the turning of the world upside down would have prevented him writing; but the world had turned upside down. It was not a board of Pinks' men had swung around on the balcony. It was the accustomed and imponderable world, awfully unbalanced. Nona would understand. Nona always understood everything. He wondered how she had maintained this terrific day. He was assured that he knew. She would have felt just as he had felt. He thought, with a most passionate longing for her, that he would have given anything to have been able to turn to her when he had exclaimed, "My God, war," and to have caught her hands and looked into her beautiful face. Tomorrow he would send the letter. "Tomorrow? Why, yes, today, like all to-morrow, in the removed and placid light of all to-morrow, would be shown needlessly hostile. Ten to one something would have happened in the night to make today look foolish."

When he went down into Tidborough in the morning it was to know at once that this tomorrow gave no lie to its precedent day. It intensified it. The previous day foreshadowed war. The new day presented it. He went into the office. The afternoon post had brought letters to his desk. He turned them over without interest, then caught up one—from Nona. "Marko, this frightful war! I have thanked God on my knees for you that last week you prevented me. If I had done it with this! Tony has rejoined the Guards, he was in the Reserve of Officers. And you see that whatever has been, and is, dear Marko, it would have been too awful if I couldn't, and I thank God for you, again and again and again. Nona."

CHAPTER IV

THIS enormous and imponderable world awfully unbalanced. Upside down. Extraordinarily unbalanced. Furiously real.

Life, which had been a thing of events in which there was no time, only events. Things began one day very shortly after the declaration of war when, passing the barracks on his way home, Sabre was accosted and taken into the Mess by Cottar, a subaltern of the Pinks.

"You must come along and have a cup of tea," young Cottar urged. "We've got a hell of a jamboree on. At least we shall have for tonight. We're just working up for it. I can't tell you why. You can guess." Sabre felt a sudden catch at his emotions. "Is the regiment going?" They were at the door of the ante-room. Cottar swung it open. The room was full of men and tobacco smoke and noise. A very tall youth, one Sikes, was standing on the table, a glass in his hand. "Hullo, Sabre!"

THEY WERE MARCHING AT BASE, THEIR RIFLES SLUNG.

Messman, one of those very stiff whiskies for Mr. Sabre—go on Sabre, you must. Because—" He had not Cottar's reticence. He burst into song, waving his glass—"Be cause—" "We shan't be here in the morning—" "Otway came in. 'Shut up, you noisy young fools. What the—' Sikes from the table. 'Ah, Papa Ottway! Three cheers for Papa Ottway in very discreet whispers. Messman, one of those very stiff whiskies for Captain Ottway."

Otway laughed pleasantly. "No, chuck it, I'm not drinking. Hoo, I want you; and you, Carmichael, and you, Eulien." He saw Sabre and came to him. "Hullo, Sabre. You've heard now. We've managed to keep it pretty close, but it's all over the place now. Yes, we entrain at day-break." Sabre felt frightfully affected. He could hardly speak. The blessed gift in the war was to be without imagination. The supreme trial, whether in endurance or in courage on the part of those who stayed at home, or in courage on the part of those who took the field, was upon those whose mentality invested every sight and every happening with the poignancy of attributes not present but imagined. For Sabre the war definitely began with that visit to the Mess on the eve of the Pinks' departure. The high excitement of the young men, their eager planning, moved Sabre, visioning what might await it all, in depths profound and painful in their intensity. His mind would not abandon them. He sat up that night after Mabel had gone to her room. How on earth could he go to bed, he vaguely sleeping, while those chaps were marching out?

He could not. At two in the morning he went quietly from the house and got out his bicycle and rode down into Tidborough.

He was just in time. The news had been well kept, or in those early days had not the meaning it came to have. Nevertheless a few people stood about the High Street in the thin light of the young morning, and when, almost immediately, the battalion came swinging out of the Market Place, many appeared flanking it, mostly women.

"Here they come!" Frightful words! Sabre caught them from a young woman spoken to a very old woman whose arm she held a few paces from where he stood. Frightful words! He caught his breath, and, more dreadfully upon his emotions, as the head of the column came into sight, the band, taking them to the station, burst into the Pinks' familiar quick-step.

The Camp Town races are five miles long. Doo-dai Doo-dai! The Camp Town races are five miles long. Doo-dai Doo-dai! Gwine to run all night. Gwine to run all day. I bet my money on the bob-tail nag. Somebody bet on the bay!

He never in his life had experienced anything so utterly frightful or imagined that anything could be so utterly frightful. His throat felt burning. His eyes were filled. They were swinging past him, file by file. Doo-dai Doo-dai! Day! It's scarcely over yet. They were marching in case, their rifles slung. Their uniforms were splendidly adorned with epaulettes, medals and multicolored sashes. A thin and God knows what else besides swung and rattled about their thighs. The women with their hands were running to keep up, and dragging children and stretching hands into the ranks, and crying—all crying.

Doo-dai Doo-dai! The Camp Town races are five miles long. Doo-dai Doo-dai! Day!

He thought, "Damn that infernal music." He wiped his eyes. This was impossible to bear. Doo-dai Doo-dai! A most frightful thing happened. A boy broke out of the ranks and came running, all rattling and jingling with swinging accoutrements, to the old woman beside Sabre, put his arms around her and cried in a most frightful voice, "Mother! Mother!" And a sergeant, also rattling and clanking dashed up and bowed with astounding ferocity. "Get back into the bloody ranks!" And the boy ran on, rattling. And the old woman collapsed prone upon the pavement. And the sergeant, though his amazing ferocity had been the buttress of some other emotions, bent over the old woman and patted her, rattling, and said, "That's all right, Mother. That's all right. I'll look after him. I'll bring him back. That's all right, Mother." And ran on, jingling. Doo-dai Doo-dai! Day!

The column passed and was gone. He could do nothing now. Four o'clock in the morning. But he must do something now. He followed to the station. The men were entraining. Presently his opportunity came in a slight (Colonel Battray, who commanded the depot and was not going, standing for a minute alone. Sabre said, feeling extraordinarily embarrassed, "I say, Colonel, I want to get into this."

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

"EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED"

"Use your horn; that's what it's there for," is the advice an experienced driver to motorists in an effort to prevent automobile accidents. He urges them not to steal up from behind people without some signal of this kind. They are to expect it whenever the slightest occasion demands it.

But they should also be urged to use their heads, and that is supposed to be in them. They should give evidence so of some consideration for the rights of others on the road; they should keep in mind that public highways are not private ones, and that someone is always likely to drive into their path from some side street or road.

There are many things which motorists must keep in mind to prevent automobile accidents are to be averted. In the speech of the motorist there ought to be no such word as "unexpected." The unexpected is the very thing they ought to expect. It ought to be as clear as day and as inevitable as winter's snow. All of us that driving a motor car is no child's play; it ought to be done only by painstaking and responsible persons, able and willing always to give their most serious attention to the business in hand.

NOTHING SO DREARY

A New York agency which controls the services of hundreds of various actors has just issued an ultimatum that hereafter prohibition jokes shall compose no part of the comedian's repertoire. The ukase is part of an older campaign to rid the vaudeville stage of such political philosophy as is involved in the efforts of the putty-noses and trousers-hackers.

While the temptation is strong to observe that the time is appropriate for an absolute divorce of government and the variety stage by removing vaudeville from politics, there is a tribute of genuine thanks due the agency that took the Volstead Act out of acting.

Nothing is as dreary as the old gag, and no tremendously comic variation of the wet-and-dry theme has materialized in the last three years. And nothing is better calculated to bore the entire world than the convictions of a gentleman whose mental wave length does not correspond to that of the subject in discussion. Edison and others have a monopoly on that sort of thing anyway.

Vaudeville agents probably know their business or they wouldn't have a business.

The Public Ledger of Philadelphia, in its editorial of the 23rd inst., with favor on nationalization, the pet theory of Mr. District No. 2. The Ledger's semi-business news cannot be accused of being biased toward the proposed Mine Workers' strike. They lean that way, but the miners' coming from a strike in one direction is in one direction.

They then proposed to use the Conciliation Board created in the hard-coal fields in 1903 by the Roosevelt administration. You refused. A third arbitration offer was made. Again you refused. Are we to understand that you are afraid of justice? At how far do you propose to go in your policy of "national dictation" denounced by President Harding? Are you about to carry it so far that the winter of 1922-23 may be set down in American annals as the Terrible Year?

Have you counted the cost and conceived the responsibility? You can't do it now. Your bridges went out when you refused arbitration. The coal does believe in it, all labor believed in it, even though you now set as hard as flint against it.

Never mind the operators. They are sins of their own to answer for, have you no consideration for the miners?

FIELD TRUST CO.

Want Pay For Bonus Paid To Miners By Direction Of Mountz Coal Company

Suit was entered in Prothonotary Ralston's office yesterday by Attorneys Pentz & Pentz of DuBois, and John M. Urey of Clearfield, on behalf of B. J. Shefke and Frank W. Albert, of Osceola, who are suing S. J. Mountz & Co., the Janesville coal operators, for $8,531.81 for coal alleged to have been stripped and loaded at Smithmill during 1919 and 1920, under a verbal agreement made between the parties.

The statement filed by the plaintiffs is quite lengthy and recites the manifold provisions and difficulties of the arrangement. It also gives an idea of what the employer of labor was up against in those peak years of wage demands and unrest among labor.

According to the plaintiffs, they entered into an arrangement with Mountz & Co. on Dec. 22, 1919, to strip and load the coal as stated. Under the agreement the company was to furnish cars, rails, tools and other equipment for the work, also pay for prospecting and track-laying and allow Messrs. Shefke and Albert $1.75 for every ton of coal loaded.

On July 1, 1920, the statement contends that the men employed by the plaintiffs demanded a bonus of $1.00 per day in addition to their regular daily wage, and two days' later increased their bonus demand to $2.00 per day or 25c per hour. The plaintiffs allege they notified Mountz & Co. they were unable to continue their operation at such an increase in wages, and in order to keep the work going they agreed to pay the extra bonus demanded. The men were so notified and kept at work.

On August 1, 1920, the Gae sheet showing the increased wages was presented to Mountz & Co. for the two weeks from July 1 to 15th and was paid, but the amount of additional wage or bonus was held back out of Shefke and Albert's $1.75 per ton for loading.

On August 1, 1920, a verbal contract was made for the erection of a barn or store house for the tools, machinery, etc., two men being employed to build same at a wage of $1.00 per hour. They worked 106 hours and this sum was also wrongfully deducted from the plaintiff's share of the proceeds.

On October 1st, 1920, the miners demanded an additional bonus of 12 1-2 cents per hour or $1.00 per day and again Mountz & Co. directed that it be paid and the men kept at work, which was done, and this sum was paid by Mountz & Co. without any holdup against the contractors.

But Messrs. Shefke and Albert assert the $8,531.81 was wrongfully deducted from their share of the proceeds and bring this suit to recover.

CURWENSVILLE

Despite the cloudy morning of Thursday, many people of the county gathered at Irvin Park to participate in the Sunday School Field Day. It was indeed very fortunate and lovely too that the rain held off until a later date. The choir, orchestra and band rendered fine music at different intervals. During the afternoon a very exciting baseball game was played—Glen Richey winning in the 11th inning, score 7-6.

The many races furnished amusement for the people and enjoyment for the competitors. Quite a number of people took a dip in the old Susquehanna, while the children had one of the best times ever. No doubt everyone went to their homes a little tired, but feeling repaid for the day spent at Irvin Park.

At the Sanborn picnic yesterday the Woodland A. C. won one and played to a tie score in the second game. Sanborn team in the first game was made up of players from the Brisbin, Winburne, Glen Richey, Faunce and Ohio ball clubs. The second game was with the fast St. Mary's team of Osceola Mills, going four innings to a tie when it was called on account of darkness. In this game it was too much for Woodland, having 10 strikeouts in the four innings. The summary:

OVER FIVE HUNDRED ATHLETES TO SHOW PROWESS AT TYRONE

Over five hundred athletes, all employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will contest for honors in the Eastern Region Meet, the greatest athletic event of the year to be held on the most beautiful playground in America—the Tyrone Division P. R. R. Athletic Park—at Tyrone, Pa., on Saturday, September 9.

The list of events for the day is complete, and will be taken off with the same snap and precision characteristic of the big Pennsylvania Railroad meets. Events for the afternoon include tennis, trap and rifle shooting, quarts and hot shoes, 50 yard dash for girls, 75 yard dash for girls, quarter mile relay for girls, 50 yard dash for boys, 100 yard dash for boys, 160, 220 and 440 yard dashes, 880 yard run, mile run, mile relay, 100 and 140 yard dash (novice), 880 yard run (novice), running high jump, running broad jump, 12 pound shot put, cycling base, golf and football game, Eastern Region v. All-Union Works.

Tyrone Division P. R. R. Athletic Park is the ideal spot for the great meet in every respect. Centrally situated on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, it is a railroad terminal town for all points; the William Penn Highway and Great Lakes To the Sea Highway also run thru Tyrone, making it easily accessible by automobile.

Complete from start to finish are the arrangements for the big meet—nothing has been overlooked for the comfort and convenience of athletes and visitors. Ample and regulated parking space for three thousand automobiles; traffic regulations and police protection; latest improved cafeteria service, capable of quickly serving all; seating capacity for twelve thousand spectators, so that all may have clear and unobstructed view of all events; medical service; ample toilet and rest room facilities; in fact nothing has been overlooked—and all this right on the grounds.

A cordial invitation is extended to all railroad employees and to the public.

Foods Rich in Proteids.
The reason why all forms of meat, cheese and eggs form so satisfying a diet is not because they are rich in calories but because they are rich in proteid. In order to be properly nourished one may paraphrase the famous proverb, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves," and make it read, "Take care of the proteid and the calories will take care of themselves."

Water Always Active.
It is known that every particle of earth is in a state of constant activity. Nature's abhors stagnation as a vacuum. Even the stagnant, smelly pool of water generates varied forms of life. Every particle of what we call a stone has a chemistry that is ever changing form. No matter how indurated the infinite atoms of the combined elements of our sphere not one is in the same place today that it knew yesterday. Every hour, every moment experiences change.

Thought is Free.
When a man informs you that he intends to follow your advice it isn't necessary to call him a liar, but you may think what you please.

Thackeray's Secret.

Thackeray defied all rules. His wonderful eye saw everything and everybody. He lived and enjoyed life with an absolutely unimpaired and childlike zest, and his brave, simple, tender spirit endured to the end. Where other men are connoisseurs of fine flavors and delicate nuances Thackeray was a connoisseur of the broadest and biggest things of life—its pathos, its absurdity, its courage, its loyalty.

REPORTS TO STATE DEPARTMENT SHOW RETURN TO NORMAL

Demand for Steel, Fuel
Production, Restoring
of High Wages, Tend
To Solidify Business.

ALL IS OPTIMISM

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—A period of industrial activity second only to the wave of production during the war was predicted for Pennsylvania, keystone industrial State of the Union, in a survey laid before the Department of Labor here today. The recent wage increases announced by the steel corporations of the country was only one indication out of many that production is ready to boom. Reports to the Department from investigators, inspectors and mediators in all parts of the State demonstrated, as one official stated, that industry has found its footing. These reports as they accumulated indicated that Pennsylvania industry was climbing satisfactorily towards greater production, even under the handicap of coal shortage and transportation difficulties. The following outstanding basic features were reported:

First.—Transportation nearly normal, with freight shipments, except coal, proceeding without interruption. Second.—Building construction proceeding with one of the most active building periods on record.

Third.—Steel mills reporting sufficient fuel, increasing wages and preparing to fill large orders. Fourth.—Textile mills expanding, increasing wages to employees and operating on full time basis.

Fifth.—Almost all lines of manufacturing in the State on a near normal basis. The State Employment Agency reported a demand for labor. A committee on labor shortage has been in existence throughout the depression in spite of the strike of miners and other workers. Wages for common labor have been run up from 25 to 45 and 50 cents per hour.

BIG BOXING BOUT AT ALTOONA

In the semi final Jack Kelly, one of the best bantamweights in the country will meet Frankie Buff of Glassmere, Pa.

In the second bout Willy Donovan, the boy that knocked out Mike Dundee in the last show will meet Young Nelson of Glassmere, Pa., while in the first bout two good local boys will meet and an all round good show is sure.

Yesterday at Hollidaysburg, Albert Shugarts, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shugarts of Merrill street, and Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. DE VALERA COMES OUT OF HIDING TO ORGANIZE ARMY

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 25.—Eamon De Valera today dramatically emerged from his hiding place and is said to be organizing an army in County Louth and is planning an attack on Dublin. The rumor ran rapidly thru the crowds mourning at the bier of Michael Collins, whose body lies in state at City Hall. Officers of the Free State government were understood to be communicating with towns in County Louth to ascertain the authenticity of the reports. If De Valera has reappeared, he has seized this opportunity when he believes the Free State demoralized by Collin's assassination to make another effort to overthrow the government and establish a republic.

WELL-KNOWN B. & P. ENGINEER HURT

Thomas A. Keenan, one of the best known engineers on the B. & P. road, and a citizen of DuBois for many years, was perhaps fatally injured Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock when he fell from his engine.

Some repairs had been made to the air pumps on the engine and Mr. Keenan climbed up to look it over and in tightening a bolt the wrench he was using slipped and becoming overbalanced he pitched headfirst to the ground. Mr. Keenan is a large man, weighing around 250, and his skull was crushed in the fall, causing a compound fracture.

He was removed to the DuBois hospital, where he has since remained in a precarious condition.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very delightful party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Renaud on Monday evening, Aug. 21st in honor of their daughter Madolin's birthday. She was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. The evening was charmingly spent in playing games and music.

Refreshments were served to twenty-one guests and when the party came to a close everyone departed wishing her many more joyous birthdays to come. The birthday cake was artistically decorated and held twenty-three tell tale candles. Skiddo One Who Was There

Meeting Breaks up After
Lengthy Session With
Railroad Executives
In New York City.

ALL DEALS ARE OFF

New York, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Prospects of rail peace were shattered here this afternoon when the conference between the Big Four brotherhoods and executives of twenty carriers, became deadlocked and broke up in disagreement. Two days' efforts of roads hit hardest by the strike to bring about separate peace failed.

The question of seniority rights again proved the stumbling block. The executives flatly refused to consider the demands of the brotherhood chiefs who acted as mediators for the striking shipmen that the men return to work with full seniority rights.

"The committee of mediators worked earnestly and helpfully with the conference in an effort to bring about a settlement," said David Willard, president of the B. & O., who acted as spokesman for the executives. "The railway executives who took part in the conference sincerely regret that the representatives of the striking employees were unwilling to agree to a settlement except under conditions which the railway executives were unwilling and unable to accept. It was difficult to imagine any fairer basis of compromise than the one developed in yesterday's conference and agreed to by the carrier representatives. It must be assumed, therefore, that the present controversy cannot be settled by that method."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—Information from government sources that the railroads of the country are now moving less than 60 per cent. of the normal fuel traffic of the country were placed before President Harding's cabinet today during a meeting devoted entirely to the rail strike. It was officially stated, despite claims

Cleveland, O., Aug. 25.—Tong war between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs, dormant for several months, broke out in Chinatown here early today. Armed Chinese in motor cars sped back and forth through the district firing fusillades of shots at the homes and business establishments of rival tong members. Many narrowly escaped injury. A series of riot calls sent scores of police to Chinatown but the rioters had disappeared. No casualties were reported.

ROTARIANS HEAR INTERESTING DATA ON SEWER PIPE

The regular meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club, held at the Hotel Jordan last evening, was attended by about forty members of the organization and several invited guests. President Albert Bigler presided over the deliberations until every fellow had been fed and then placed the reins of authority in the hands of F. Gurney Smith, who very capably directed the flow of "after dinner oratory," etc., along the right lines.

The club members were disappointed when they learned the speaker of the evening, Editor John F. Short, who was scheduled to talk on "Taxation," was indisposed and unable to be present. His place was taken by Sam L. Warner, who talked "Sewer Pipe." Sam went back into antiquity to the times even beyond where the cliff dwellers of the stone age cut water courses down the faces of the cliffs wherein they had their habitations and closed with a burst of oratory in which he recommended the Clearfield Sewer Pipe Company's second grade 3-inch for equipping moonshine stills hereabouts in our mountains. As usual with Sam, he gave an interesting talk, which was highly appreciated by his hearers.

President Bigler announced that Mr. Short would be the speaker at next week's meeting, while Alex Dunbar, Pittsburg banker, would talk at the meeting on September 7. The local Rotarians will entertain the DuBois and Philipsburg clubs at the Clearfield-Curwensville Country Club on September 14th.

President Thomas of Pennsylvania State College will be the guest of the Rotary Club on the evening of September 21st and it is likely the Commercial Club will also meet in joint session with Rotary to hear the distinguished visitor.

Band Concert Announced For Next Sunday

The Clearfield American Legion Band will give another of those delightful concerts in the park on Sunday afternoon starting at three o'clock. The program selected by Prof. Thayer has been chosen so that it covers the classical and that of lighter vein.

Mr. H. J. Brown, one of the city's leading tenors will be the soloist for the afternoon and will sing to the accompaniment of the band.

This will possibly be the last of the summer concerts as from now on the band is bending every effort toward perfection for the coming trip with the John Lewis Shade Post to the State American Legion convention at Williamsport next month where they will compete with a great number of bands for first prize which is the honor of accompanying the state delegation of the American Legion to the national convention at New Orleans, October next.

Mrs. Mary Shaffner, of Nichols street left on the 1:05 to attend a funeral of her aunt at Bellefonte.

HARBISON-WALKER ANNOUNCES WAGE INCREASE OF THIRTY PER CENT

Coincident with the announcement of the Steel Trust boost of wages for laborers 20 per cent and the settling of the coal strike, comes the announcement of the Harbison-Walker Company, which operates many brick yards in Clearfield county and this section of the state, that, beginning September 1st, the wages of their employees would be increased a matter of 30 per cent.

The Osceola Fire Brick Company has made a similar announcement and it is likely all the brickyards in this section will fall in line with the increase.

After September 1st common laborers at the brickyards will receive $3.50 per day.

SENATE COMMITTEE CLAIM CLEVELAND ON GASOLINE SCORES STANDARD OIL CO.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—"Railroad gasoline prices have climbed steadily during the last two years, while crude oil costs, subject to violent fluctuations, have decreased. The valuation of stocks of gas and oil have increased during the same period but have tended to concentrate in the hands of a few Standard Oil groups. Independent oil producers of the country face disaster because of the manipulation of Standard Oil prices which have increased materially."

These were some of the findings of the special Senate investigating committee investigating the oil industry and presented by Chairman McNary, of Oregon, today.

1922 SESSION JUNIOR O. U. A. M. SEPT. 11 AT JOHNSTOWN, PA.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 25.—Preparations are practically complete for the session of the State Council of Pennsylvania, Jr. O. U. A. M., which will be held in Johnstown the week of September 11, 1922. The local committees have gone over the details for the meeting and announce that everything is in readiness.

While the sessions proper will not begin until Tuesday, September 12, many of the 400 or more delegates expected at the convention will arrive in Johnstown on Monday, September 11 and it has been arranged to have the degree team of Daniel Webster Council No. 700, put on the initiatory work in the way of an entertainment feature for the early arrivals among the visiting delegates. The balance of the time during convention week, while the delegates are not in the convention hall, has been provided for and the local Entertainment Committee has laid elaborate plans to see that the visitors have a thoroughly good time and return home with a lasting impression of "The Friendly City."

The ladies who accompany the delegates to Johnstown have not been forgotten in the entertainment plans, and the local committees have arranged numerous affairs for the women folks.

Automobile tours to points of interest about the Flood City, theatre parties and other entertainment has been provided for both the delegates and their ladies, but the principal social feature will be a reception and dance to be held in Moose Temple on Wednesday evening, September 13. A good orchestra has been secured for the occasion and a pleasant evening for the visitors seems assured. The regular session of the State body will also be held in Moose Temple, which is but a short distance from the business district of Johnstown and also within easy reach of the hotels where the visitors will be quartered.

All in all, the convention promises to be one of the best in the history of the State Council of Pennsylvania, and the local committees and having nothing undone to uphold the reputation of Johnstown—"The Friendly City"—as an entertaining center.

CLAIM CLEVELAND PACT A VIOLATION OF SHERMAN LAW

Pittsburg, Aug. 25.—Legal actions against operators who participated in the Cleveland peace conference have been instituted by operators in Pittsburg and West Virginia, it was learned here today. Plans for action in an attempt to show the Cleveland agreement is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law were made in a conference here between legal representatives of the Kanawha Valley Association and the Pittsburg Coal Producers Association. The first steps for combined legal action against the operators who signed the Cleveland agreement probably will be taken in Washington.

CHINESE YOUTH OF ALTOONA WALKS TO PITTSBURGH TO CLAIM HIS BRIDE ONLY TO FIND SHE HAD MOVED AWAY

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—Supposed authorities have united in declaring the Chinese an unemotional and unromantic race. If this be true, 14-year-old Yee Man Joe, formerly of Pittsburgh, but now of Altoona, has made rapid strides toward Americanism. For Yee Man is now back in Altoona after a fruitless pilgrimage by foot to Pittsburgh in search of his youthful sweetheart, Ming Wong, once of Second avenue. But she has moved away.

At least that was the reason given by Lee Man in the office of Detective Captain Left yesterday afternoon for his unannounced departure 10 days ago from the laundry-home of his father, Yen Joe, in Altoona. Yee Man had been picked up by Detective David Corbett and William Sullivan, at 1248 Penn avenue a few minutes before as a result of an appeal from his father to Pittsburgh police.

Yee Man's vocabulary proved rather limited when questioned by detectives but he did admit that a desire to see

Of Events Which Led To Cleveland Arrest.

ABSOLVES KRAMER

The following letter from Lee R. Linsenbigher was received at The Progress office last evening. It gives the details of the transactions leading up to the arrest and imprisonment of Linsenbigher and Sherwood Cramer at Cleveland, and proves just what the Cleveland detectives told the Progress while in Clearfield that Jones was not only the "Master mind" of the gang that had been looting freight cars in Cleveland for a long time, but that he felt the "ice getting thin under him and worked out the scheme which resulted in both his victims going to Cleveland from Clearfield just long enough to be incriminated when the break came.

When arrested Jones was placed under $2500 bail, and Linsenbigher's $175, his diamond pin and ring went into the pot which made up Jones' bail. When he jumped out of Cleveland Jones also took Linsenbigher's automobile, which he bought on lease from the Penn Motor Sales Company, and last evening Chief of Police McMullen was notified by the police department at Cleveland that the automobile had been located and was in their hands and to notify the owner to come to Cleveland, and get it.

Linsenbigher's letter exonerates Sherwood Cramer of any part whatever in the transaction which led to their arrest. He was an inmate of the Jones home when it was raided and was taken along with the rest. He had been in Cleveland but a very short time. He was always an honest, industrious young man and bore the very best of reputations and local friends are already interesting themselves in his behalf. The letter follows:

Cleveland, Aug. 24, '22

J. D. Connelly, care Progress
Just thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know where I am and how I got here.

I had a letter from one of those unfortunate fellows who bought one of those Ford Coupes. He thought that he ought to have his money back I just want you to tell him along with all those other victims of circumstances I am the fellow that sent that Detective to Clearfield and told him where I sold all those cars. Now when I bought those cars I first of all got a legal bill of sale, just as they

By J. D. C.

Prothontary George W. Ralston is going to be able to pick his own company and promises to be the most popular man in town by the time the fall hunting season arrives.

He has already had more than a score of invitations from local Nimrods who want to go with him and will no doubt receive many more before the season opens.

The reason for the general county official's increased popularity is the result of his showing the following letter, which he received yesterday:

"August 21, 1922. Dear Friend:—I have seen two bucks and five does a good many times right close to our house, while four bears are in our corn field several nights a week. Now, George, if you want these animals to stay here unmolested till hunting season you can send me some trespass notices and I will post them up and keep people coming in and chasing them away before the hunting season comes in. Send them right away or they will be in and chase them away or kill them as they did before. I am waiting for your reply. Yours very truly,

A California woman named Kendrick, being pinched for ready money, sold or rented her handsome husband to the rich Mrs. Edith Huntington Sprickles Wakefield, of the wealthy Sprickles family for a measly little old $100 per month for life.

After collecting a few monthly instalments, Mrs. Kendrick found the widow was taking up entirely too much of her husband's time and attention and ruining her bargain, had the rich woman hauled into court and ordered to let her hubby alone.

This is a great world and people are so peculiar. We know several women right here in Clearfield who would gladly give a quit claim deed to their husbands and instead of demanding $100 per month would even pay the costs of preparing and recording the deed.

Gold held by the central banks of all principal world powers now amounts to $7,851,000,000—a new record. This sum is an increase of $1,238,000,000 in two years. The increase is due to the fact that governments by restrictive gold policies

Needless to add, Ralston sent the trespass notices out on the very next mail and is beginning already to organize his hunting party.

A. B. Reed handed us the following report of a baseball game played on the ball field at the old fair grounds on the Reed farm on South Second street on September 15, 1869, between the Chinleclanchouse club of Clearfield and the Rough and Ready club of Penfield, which resulted in a victory for the "Chinks" by a score of 98 to 39. The players were: Chinks—George Moore, c; A. W. Walters, p; O. L. Hoover, ss; J. P. Johnson, 1b; John Irvin, 2b; H. F. Bigler, 3b; J. K. Johnson, 1b; N. L. Robins, cf; F. Chorpennig, rf. R. and R.—W. A. Lamb, c; A. Rosenkrans, p; John Radebach, ss; Mose Lucore, 1b; D. Hanning, 2b; F. C. Bowman, 3b; A. Bliss, lf; G. Woodward, cf; John Lucore, rf.

The summary of the game is interesting in these days of scientific playing. The "fly catches" are given, Clearfield, 7; R. and R., 10. The home runs were, Clearfield, 7; R. and R., 2.

The late A. M. Hills was umpire, and E. A. Bigler and Harry Brown scorers. Time of game, 3 hours.

It is interesting to note that two of the "Chinks" are yet in the land of the living after all these fifty-three years, in the persons of Squire F. G. Chorpennig, of Clearfield, and George C. Moore, of California.

Indoor Occupation. "You must take an interest in indoor sports," said the physician. "do," replied the indolent citizen. "They provide my main reading every day."

have brought gold out of hiding. Then there has been a steady flow of new gold from the mines. Of the world's total, the United States has 40 per cent. or $3,170,000,000. Most of this gold is in the possession of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks of the Federal Reserve system, or in the vaults of the United States Treasury and its branch depositories. The grand total of all available gold does not include gold in Russia.

Since November, 1918, there has been shipped into the United States $1,290,000,000 in gold. This came chiefly from England, France, Canada and Sweden. The total gold exported in that period was $724,000,000, sent mainly to Japan, Argentina, China, Hongkong and British India.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

In the summer of 1914, MARK SABRE finds that he is estranged from human sympathy and understanding with the sole exception of LADY NONA TYBAR, an old sweet-heart, now unhappily married. Sabre's promise and snobbish wife, MABEL, fails to understand her husband's poetic and whimsical temperament. In business he is in the firm of Fortune, East and Sabre and a promised partnership is diverted from him.

At this point, Nona's life with Tybar is intolerable and she asks Sabre to take her away. War is declared and Sabre rushes to inform his wife.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

She echoed the word, "War?"

"Yes, declared war."

He was breathless, panting. She said, "Good gracious! Whatever will happen? Have you brought an evening paper? Do you know the paper didn't come this morning till—?"

"No, I didn't wait. I simply rushed away."

He was close to her. He took her hands. "I say, Mabel, it's war." His emotions were tumultuous and extraordinary. He wanted to draw her to him and kiss her. They had not kissed for longer than he could have remembered; but now he held her hands hard and desired to kiss her.

"I say, it's war," she gave her sudden burst of laughter. "You are excited. I've never seen you so excited. Your color's undone."

He dropped her hands. He said rather stupidly, "Well, it's war, you know," and stood there.

She turned to her dressing table. "Well, I do wish you'd stayed for a paper."

Lying awake, he thought of Nona. He had not written the letter to her. The appointed day was past and he had not written. He would have said, during that unutterable darkness in which he had awaited it, that not the turning of the world upside down would have prevented him writing; but the world had turned upside down. It was not a board of directors who had swung around on the balcony. It was the accustomed and imponderable world, awfully unbalanced. Nona would understand. Nona always understood everything.

He wondered how she had maintained this terrific day. He was assured that he knew. She would have felt just as he had felt. He thought, with a most passionate longing for her, that he would have given anything to have been able to turn to her when he had exclaimed, "My God, war," and to have caught her hands and looked into her beautiful face. Tomorrow he would send the letter.

Tomorrow? Why, yes, today, like all to-morrows, he removed and placed light of all to-morrows, would be shown needlessly hostile. Ten to one something would have happened in the night to make today look foolish.

When he went down into Tidborough in the morning it was to know at once that this tomorrow gave no lie to its precedent day. It intensified it. The previous day foreshadowed war. The new day presented it.

He went into the office. The afternoon post had brought letters to his desk. He turned them over without interest, then caught up one—from Nona.

"Marko, this frightful war! I have thanked God on my knees for you that last week you prevented me. If I had done it with this! Tony has rejoined the Guards, he was in the Reserve of Officers. And you see that whatever has been, and is, dear Marko, it would have been too awful if I couldn't, and I thank God for you, again and again and again.—Nona."

CHAPTER IV

THIS enormous and imponderable world awfully unbalanced. Upside down. Extraordinarily unbalanced. Furiously real.

Life, which had been a thing of events in which there was no time, only events.

Things began one day very shortly after the declaration of war when, passing the barracks on his way home, Sabre was accosted and taken into the Mess by Cottar, a subaltern of the Pinks.

"You must come along and have a cup of tea," young Cottar urged. "We've got a hell of a jamboree on. At least we shall have for tonight. We're just working up for it. I can't tell you why. You can guess."

Sabre felt a sudden catch at his emotions. "Is the regiment going?"

They were at the door of the ante-room. Cottar swung it open. The room was full of men and tobacco smoke and noise. A very tall youth, one Sikes, was standing on the table, a glass in his hand. "Hullo, Sabre!"

Sabre felt a sudden catch at his emotions. "Is the regiment going?"

They were at the door of the ante-room. Cottar swung it open. The room was full of men and tobacco smoke and noise. A very tall youth, one Sikes, was standing on the table, a glass in his hand. "Hullo, Sabre!"

"You must come along and have a cup of tea," young Cottar urged. "We've got a hell of a jamboree on. At least we shall have for tonight. We're just working up for it. I can't tell you why. You can guess."

Sabre felt a sudden catch at his emotions. "Is the regiment going?"

with the poignancy of attributes not present but imagined. For Sabre the war definitely began with that visit to the Mess on the eve of the Pinks' departure. The high excitement of the young men, their eager planning, moved and painful in their intensity. His mind would not abandon them. He sat up that night after Mabel had gone to her room. How on earth could he go to bed, he vaguely sleeping, while those chaps were marching out?

He could not. At two in the morning he went quietly from the house and got out his bicycle and rode down into Tidborough.

He was just in time. The news had been well kept, or in those early days had not the meaning it came to have. Nevertheless a few people stood about the High Street in the thin light of the young morning, and when, almost immediately, the battalion came swinging out of the Market Place, many appeared flanking it, mostly women.

"Here they come!"

Frightful words! Sabre caught them from a young woman spoken to a very old woman whose arm she held a few paces from where he stood. Frightful words! He caught his breath, and, more dreadfully upon his emotions, as the head of the column came into sight, the band, taking them to the station, burst into the Pinks' familiar quick-step.

Noticeable Resemblance.

"Isn't that a Bouguereau?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle as they stopped for a moment to look at the new pictures. "Oh, my no," replied her hostess; "It's a lion. But I told Josiah when he brought it home that it looked a good deal more like one of them things you mention."

Delicate Hint.

Borrowings—"I knew a man who looks so much like you that one could hardly tell you apart." Lenders—"You haven't paid him that five I lent you three months ago, have you?" Boston Transcript.

Potted Plants.

"When potted plants put a piece of coarse muslin over the hole in the pot before putting in the bits of stone and soil, which keeps the drainage good. The muslin prevents the earth from washing away."

Uncle Eben.

"Patience is fine," said Uncle Eben, "if it keeps a man working. But it ain't much good if it keeps him sticking to a crap game."

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

CURWENSVILLE

Despite the cloudy morning of Thursday, many people of the county gathered at Irvin Park to participate in the Sunday School Field Day. It was indeed very fortunate and lovely too that the rain held off until a later date. The choir, orchestra and band rendered fine music at different intervals. During the afternoon a very exciting baseball game was played—Glen Richey winning in the 11th inning, score 7-6.

The many races furnished amusement for the people and enjoyment for the competitors. Quite a number of people took a dip in the old Susquehanna, while the children had one of the best times ever. No doubt everyone went to their homes a little tired, but feeling repaid for the day spent at Irvin Park.

Miss Grace Hoyt of Clearfield spent yesterday in Curwensville.

Mrs. J. L. Curtin and children arrived home Wednesday evening after spending several weeks in Huntingdon and vicinity.

Miss Smith of Grampian is visiting her sister, Mrs. Eli Korb.

Mrs. Daisy Thorn Johnson of Clearfield attended the picnic at Irvin Park yesterday.

Misses Theresa and Mary Rickett of Coalport are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Malkin on Ridge avenue.

Miss Josephine Thompson is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson in Philadelphia.

Mrs. James McAlarney of Hastings is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kephart on South Side.

Misses Muriel Quigley and Grace Ross of Clearfield were Curwensville visitors last evening.

Miss Esther Beers of Grampian is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Marjorie Murray for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lave of Lock Haven are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson.

Mrs. Joseph Hipps is suffering from an infected knee at her home on South Side.

Change Wrought by Time
"You see, grandma, we perforate an aperture in the apex and a corresponding aperture in the base, and by applying the egg to the lips and for elixir inhaling the breath the shell is entirely emptied of its contents. 'Dear me,' exclaimed the old lady, 'what wonderful improvements they do make! Now, in my younger days, they just made a hole in each one and sucked.'"

Come!

OVER FIVE HUNDRED ATHLETES TO SHOW PROWESS AT TYRONE

Over five hundred athletes, all employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will contest for honors in the Eastern Region Meet, the greatest athletic event of the year to be held on the most beautiful playground in America—the Tyrone Division P. R. R. Athletic Park—at Tyrone, Pa., on Saturday, September 9.

The list of events for the day is complete, and will be taken off with the same snap and precision characteristic of the big Pennsylvania Railroad meets. Events for the afternoon include tennis, trap and rifle shooting, quoits and horse shoes, 50 yard dash for girls, 75 yard dash for girls, quarter mile relay for girls, 50 yard dash for boys, 100 yard dash for boys, 100 and 410 yard dashes, 880 yard run, mile run, mile relay, 100 and 140 yard dash (novice), 880 yard run (novice), running high jump, running broad jump, 12 pound shot put, cycling race, golf and baseball game, Eastern Region v. All-Union Works.

Tyrone Division P. R. R. Athletic Park is the ideal spot for the great meet in every respect. Centrally situated on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, it is a railroad terminal town for all points; the William Penn Highway and Great Lakes To the Sea Highway also run thru Tyrone, making it easily accessible by automobile.

Complete from start to finish are the arrangements for the big meet—nothing has been overlooked for the comfort and convenience of athletes and visitors. Ample and regulated parking space for three thousand automobiles; traffic regulations and police protection; latest improved cafeteria service, capable of quickly serving all; seating capacity for twelve thousand spectators, so that all may have clear and unobstructed view of all events; medical service; ample toilet and rest room facilities; in fact nothing has been overlooked—and all this right on the grounds.

A cordial invitation is extended to all railroad employees and to the public.

Foods Rich in Proteids.
The reason why all forms of meat, cheese and eggs form so satisfying a diet is not because they are rich in calories but because they are rich in proteid. In order to be properly nourished one may paraphrase the famous proverb, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves," and make it read, "Take care of the proteid and the calories will take care of themselves."

Nature Always Active.
It is known that every particle of earth is in a state of constant activity. Nature's abhorrent stagnation is a thing of the past. Even the stagnant pool of water generates myriad forms of life. Every particle of what we call a stone has a chemistry that is ever changing form. No matter how infinitesimal the minute atoms the combined elements of our sphere are not one in the same place today that it knew yesterday. Every hour, every moment experiences change.

Thought is Free.
When a man informs you that he intends to follow your advice it isn't necessary to call him a liar, but you may think what you please.

Thackeray's Secret.
Thackeray defied all rules. His wonderful eye saw everything and everybody. He lived and enjoyed life with an absolutely unimpaired and childlike zest, and his brave, simple, tender spirit endured to the end. Where other men are connoisseurs of fine flavors and delicate nuances Thackeray was a connoisseur of the broadest and biggest things of life—its pathos, its absurdity, its courage, its loyalty.

Must Go on Forever.
Time is like a river made up of the events which happen, and a violent stream; for as soon as a thing has been seen, it is carried away, and another comes in its place and this will be carried away, too.—Marcus Aurelius.

—to Help Your Hens Over the Moulting Season

Now is the time to prepare your hens for big egg production during the fall and winter months. Don't let them linger along from four to six months moulting. Get them through the moult QUICK, because a moulting hen is an expense instead of a producer. Every day counts and the feeding method you employ now determines the profits biddy will produce for you later on.

Try the FUL-O-PEP Way

The best known feeding method during the moulting season, is half FUL-O-PEP DRY MASH and half FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH. Keep it before your hens all the time and you will be agreeably surprised how quickly they will finish moulting and be back on the nests, shelling out the eggs in large numbers.

FUL-O-PEP POULTRY FEEDS

enable poultry raisers to get results from poultry that at one time were considered impossible. Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash for growing birds enables you to produce big healthy, early laying pullets at less cost than any feed known. Keep it before the growing stock all the time—don't stop feeding it until pullets are six months old. Then feed Ful-O-Pep Dry Mash—the feed that makes more eggs all the year round. These feeds have opened the door of opportunity to poultry raisers. Poultrymen everywhere are getting real results from these guaranteed feeds. Feed the Ful-O-Pep Way and your success with poultry is assured. The famous Ful-O-Pep line of poultry feeds was originated and is produced by The Quaker Oats Company, Address Chicago, U. S. WOMAN BLAMED BY HER FAMILY

Restless, irritable, nervous, excitable and exacting is the charge against her by those nearest and dearest. How little they realize the struggle the overworked wife and mother is making to keep about and perform the hundred and one duties that devolve upon her! The grateful letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have found health by its use prove it.
